NARRATIVE REPORT

During the first two quarters of 1985, JOUETT was involved with preparations for, and entry into, a Selected Restricted Availability. Most Combat Systems equipment were placed in Inactive Equipment Maintenance during this time.

The third quarter of 1985 began with JOUETT in an unusual role, that of flagship for COMCRUDESGRU ONE in support of a Battleship Surface Action Group (BB-SAG), built around the USS NEW JERSEY (BB-62). JOUETT served as Anti-Surface Warfare Commander (ALFA SIERRA) for this battle group. Operations were conducted during two TRANSITEX's and a COMPUTEX.

In the last quarter of 1985, JOUETT was busy jumping through the usual pre-deployment hoops, the first major one being OPPRE. The tempo continued with NGFS, requalifications, several ISE periods, ammunition loadouts, and OUTBOARD calibrations in preparation for READIEX 86-3.
